

CRYPTO MARKETING AGENCY

What is Crypto Marketing?

Promoting and selling products or services related to crypto business (an exchange, a wallet, a lending bank, a community, etc.) is called crypto marketing. Any activity related to building brand awareness, getting customers, increasing return customers, and improving sales will come under crypto marketing.

Crypto marketing is different from traditional marketing in a few ways:

1. Technology and terminology used to describe the crypto market are new & complex.
2. The market is community-supported and sometimes community governed.
3. The crypto industry and its adoption are still in their infancy.
